

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF
PLANT HEALTH
2020

Everyday plant health heroes Protecting plants, protecting life

Yasmine Brockhurst

Year 5 student at St Joseph's Catholic Primary School Corinda

Award recipient at the 2019 Hermitage Schools Plant Science Competition

What is your favourite subject?

Health

What would you like to do when you finish school?

Be either a sports player or a midwife.

What does plant health mean to you?

Plant health means to me that it is important to look after our plants because each year they go through plant pest and plant disease. So, we all need to look after our plants not just the farmers and the government but anyone else who is also contributing to help look after our special plants. This needs to be everyone and anyone and so we all need to work together to help our precious plants from disaster.

What interests you about plant health?

That there is always something new to discover every day.

Awards

2019 Hermitage Schools Plant Science Competition

- Joe Baker Outstanding Achievement Award – Winner (years 3-6)